STARTING SCHOOL

This is by no means a comprehensive list, but gives a few practical suggestions on ways to help your child adapt more readily to school life.

- ❖ Encourage reading, by looking at a wide variety of interesting books and reading them together on a daily basis
- ❖ Listen to them and be interested in what they have to say – give them your full attention
- ❖ Familiarise your child with the phonetic alphabet – the ‘sound’ each letter makes
- ❖ Teach nursery rhymes, read lots of stories and play simple games such as ‘I spy’ using the sounds of the alphabet
- ❖ Help them to learn the names of colours
- ❖ If your child is naturally left handed do not force the use of the right hand
- ❖ Provide them with the opportunity to paint, cut and crayon
- ❖ Ensure your child can put their coat on and take it off independently and can dress/ undress themselves with minimal adult support

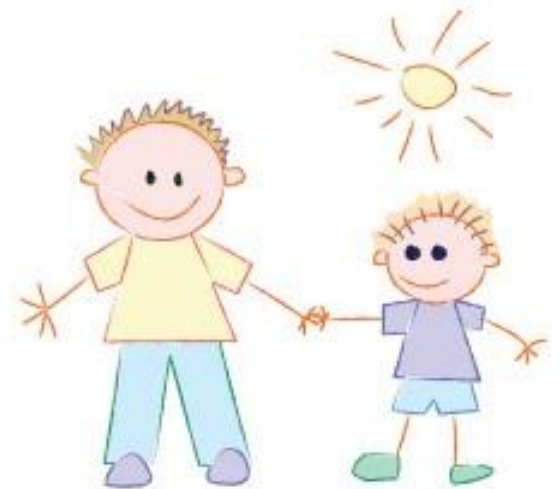

- ❖ When your child plays with their toys, encourage them to talk about their play and join in with imaginative play
- ❖ When your child 'dresses up' enter into the spirit of their imagination and help them to develop their play character further
- ❖ Show your child how to hold a pencil correctly
- ❖ All children should be independent in the use of the toilet, unless there are medical needs, and should take responsibility for leaving it clean and tidy for other children who follow. They should be used to washing their hands afterwards
- ❖ All children should be encouraged to handle a knife, fork, spoon and beaker correctly and be able to state their school lunch choice
- ❖ Teach counting practically, using number games and counting objects such as buttons and shells, (one to one counting)
- ❖ Do not use capital letters when showing them how to write, except at the beginning of their name
- ❖ To be able to communicate their needs to adults and ask for help if needed

Early Years Foundation Stage

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) covers the first stage of a child's care from birth to five years old. It sets the standards to ensure that all children learn and develop, as well as keeping them healthy and safe.

All schools and Ofsted registered early years providers in England must follow the EYFS curriculum.

Schools will follow a newly devised EYFS curriculum from September 2021.

The learning in Reception is carefully planned and organised in order to provide a range of experiences. Individual learning journeys are maintained by staff to record the activities and experiences your child participates in and undertakes, as well as their progress in specific skills.

Planning for each week is carried out using a half termly topic-based approach, following the children's interests and responding to specific events.

There are 7 Areas of Learning in the EYFS, which activities are planned around:

*Personal, Social and Emotional Development
Physical Development
Communication and Language
Literacy
Mathematics
Understanding the World
Expressive Arts and Design*

Throughout the EYFS, children will be working towards the Early Learning Goals.

These describe the level of attainment expected at the end of your child's Reception year in school.
